How risky is it?

The value of the fund can go down as well as up. You could lose money.

One way to gauge risk is to look at how much a fund's returns change over time. This is called "volatility".

In general, funds with higher volatility will have returns that change more over time. They typically have a greater chance of losing money and may have a greater chance of higher returns. Funds with lower volatility tend to have returns that change less over time. They typically have lower returns and may have a lower chance of losing money.

Risk rating

Front Street Capital 2004 has rated the volatility of this fund as low to medium.

This rating is based on how much the fund's returns have changed from year to year. It doesn't tell you how volatile the fund will be in the future. The rating can change over time. A fund with a low risk rating can still lose money.

For more information about the risk rating and specific risks that can affect the fund's returns, see the Investment Risk Classification Methodology section of the fund's simplified prospectus.

No guarantees

Like most mutual funds, this fund doesn't have any guarantees. You may not get back the amount of money you invest.

How has the fund performed?

This section tells you how Series A shares of the fund have performed over the past 8 years. Returns are after expenses have been deducted. These expenses reduce the fund's returns.

Year-by-year returns

This chart shows how Series A shares of the fund performed in each of the past 8 years. The fund dropped in value in three of the 8 years. The range of returns and change from year to year can help you assess how risky the fund has been in the past. It does not tell you how the fund will perform in the future.

Note: The Front Street Balanced Monthly Income Class is the continuing fund, for securities law purposes, resulting from the amalgamation effective November 1, 2008 of Front Street Balanced Monthly Income Fund, a class of shares of Front Street Mutual Funds Limited, which initially started offering securities on June 19, 2006, and Front Street Yield Opportunities Fund, a class of shares of Front Street Opportunity Funds Ltd. There are no returns for a full calendar year for the Series A shares of Front Street Yield Opportunities Fund prior to such amalgamation.

Best and worst 3-month returns

This table shows the best and worst returns for Series A shares of the fund in a 3-month period over the past 8 years. The best and worst 3-month returns could be higher or lower in the future. Consider how much of a loss you could afford to take in a short period of time.

	Return	3 months ending	If you invested $1,000 at the beginning of the period
Best Return	6.45%	May 31, 2009	Your investment would rise to $1,064
Worst Return	-11.45%	November 30, 2008	Your investment would drop to $886

Average Return

The annual compounded return of Series A shares of the fund was 1.60% since inception. If you had invested $1,000 in the fund since June 19, 2006, your investment would now be worth $1,146.

Who is the fund for?

Investors who:

- are looking for capital appreciation and a long-term investment
- want to invest in a broad range of companies
- have a low to medium tolerance for risk and volatility

! Don't buy this fund if you need a steady source of income from your investment.

A word about tax

In general, you'll have to pay income tax on any money you make on a fund. How much you pay depends on the tax laws where you live and whether or not you hold the fund in a registered plan, such as a Registered Retirement Savings Plan or a Tax-Free Savings Account.

Keep in mind that if you hold your fund in a non-registered account, fund distributions are included in your taxable income, whether you get them in cash or have them reinvested.

How much does it cost?

The following table shows the fees and expenses you could pay to buy, own and sell Series A shares of the fund. The fees and expenses – including any commissions – can vary among series of a fund and among funds. Higher commissions can influence representatives to recommend one investment over another. Ask about other funds and investments that may be suitable for you at a lower cost.

More about the trailing commission

The trailing commission is an ongoing commission. It is paid for as long as you own the fund. It is for the services and advice that your representative and their firm provide to you.

Front Street Capital 2004 pays the trailing commission to your representative's firm. It is paid from the fund's management fee and is based on the value of your investment. The rate depends on the sales charge option you choose.

Sales charge option	Amount of trailing commission
	in per cent (%)	In dollars ($)
Deferred sales charge	0.75% of the value of your investment each year	$7.50 each year on every $1,000 invested

3. Other fees

You may have to pay other fees when you buy, hold, sell or switch Series A shares of the fund.

Fee	What you pay
Short-Term trading fee	You may be charged up to 2% of the value of shares you sell or switch within 90 days of buying them. This fee goes to the fund.
Switch fee	Your representative's firm may charge you a fee to switch to another Front Street Capital 2004 fund.
